Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. § 121:
  - I. Claims 1-19 and 25, drawn to lettuce line P2428-5006090 and method of using same, classified in class 800, subclass 305, for example.
  - II. Claims 20 and 21, drawn to a plant of a lettuce line that exhibits a trait found in lettuce line P2428-5006090, classified in class 800, subclass 305, for example.
  - III. Claims 22-24, drawn to a method of determining the genotype of a plant using a sample of nucleic acids, classified in class 435, subclass 6, for example.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as products which share an alleged common utility of being a lettuce plant but the common utility is not linked to a substantial structural feature. The products in this relationship are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the products encompass embodiments that are not required to perform the common utility or (2) that the products as claimed can be used to perform another utility. In this case, the lettuce line of Group II only required a single trait found in the lettuce line of Group I.
3. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case the product of Group I can be used in a materially different process than that of Group II, such as the method found in claim 9 of Group I.

4. Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions are unrelated because the method of Group III does not require the product of Group II.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, recognized divergent subject matter, and because the search required for one of the groups is not required for another, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete within one month (not less than 30 days) must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR § 1.143).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR § 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR § 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR § 1.17(i).
